

US Radar Sites Iceland: The reunion at Dayton is over. Outside a couple glitches everything went according to plans. We re-dedicated our plaque in the memorial gardens, toured the AF Museum, saw a T-MAX film, and visited presidential aircraft then tops off the day with a pizza party at the hotel. Food was great. On our second day a glitches with a Wright Brothers museum, construction work did not allow our buses to enter so the drivers took us on a trip to down town Dayton. WE saw some Wright Brothers houses and the flight display. Then on to the Dayton Historical park for our picnic lunch and a walk through the history of Dayton. The cash register was invented there along with the carnival carousel. That night our banquet with Lt/Col retired Joe Richardson the last commander of radar in Iceland serving as our guest speaker. Honor Guard furnished by Wright-Patterson AFB. Then some great food. Our local chairman was Andy Holzinger and hospitality chairmen Bill Greenawalt. Larry Robin and Jerry Tonnell served as MC. Now on to 2017 reunion west of the Mississippi River. 4 great places were nominated, Tucson, Salt Lake City, Green Bay and Reno. Some seasonal time schedules will be due to weather in these locations. These names will be in our June 2015 newsletter which will be about a month late due to the reunion and summer travel, so look for it next month and vote your choice. No one came forward so you are stuck with me being your chairman for another 2 years. More news in our next month newsletter.
